At the start of every week, we highlight some of the most recent news in competition-winning projects, commissions, awards, shortlists, and events on the newly redesigned Bustler from the previous week that are worth checking out.

Here's recap #100 for the week of March 14-18, 2016.

2016 Curry Stone Design Prize awarded to SPARC, housing rights advocate for India's urban poor

Non-profit group Society for the Promotion of Area Resource Centers won the prestigious Curry Stone Design Prize. Along with their partners National Slum Dwellers Federation (NSDF) and the all-women Mahila Milan, the three groups have dedicated the last 30 years protecting the interests of India's urban poor.
